Class Of 1969 History

As the proverb says, "A good beginning is half the business and to have begun well is praised by all." Thus, we apprehensively began our freshman year in high school. It was the beginning of the end, for in four years we would be graduated.

The year got off to a good start with the Freshman Mixer. This dance was sponsored in October to acquaint us with our fellow classmates.

After vigorous campaigning by the candidates, we elected our class officers. They were: Mark LeVangie, President; Marcia Browne, Vice-President; Ginny Streeter, Secretary; and Beth Bernado, Treasurer. Our class advisers that first year were Mrs. McAfee and Mr. D'Alessio.

The newness and excitement of adjusting ourselves to high school finally wore off, and we settled down to the routine of school life.

As freshmen, our class activities were limited. However, the production of "Brigadoon" required considerable cooperation and effort from all of the classes. It proved to be a worthwhile project and was a complete success.

The football team fared very well in '65 as the Panthers won the Class C Championship. The Girls' Basketball and Softball teams also excelled by gaining the Old Colony League Championships for Whitman-Hanson. In addition, the Old Colony League and Eastern Mass. titles were earned by the varsity baseball team.

So, we were at the end of our freshman year only to return in the fall with the new status of "Sophomore."

Our second year we were better able to handle our role in the student body. We were now completely familiarized with the school system and anticipated a successful year. Mr. Boothby became our new Superintendent-Principal.

We started by electing our class officers. Steve Ohrenberger was President; Donna Rhoades, Vice-President; Ginny Streeter, Secretary; and Gail Darsch, Treasurer. Miss McDonnell and Mr. D'Alessio accepted the position as our class advisers.

A dance was held in November which assisted us in raising funds toward a television set presented to Michael Loring, our former classmate who was seriously injured in an accident. Mrs. Tuttle's English class also contributed to the cause by forwarding the profits from their play, "Annie Gun," which was written by Sue Kirkell and Marcia Zaniboni. The presentation was a parody on Sophocles' play, Antigone and served as a humorous way to increase appreciation for our schoolwork.

The Panthers' football team held a 5-4 record that fall. In varsity basketball, five games were won in the first half and four games in the second half. The Girls' varsity basketball team and the baseball teams both won the Old Colony League Championships.

The spring presentation of "My Fair Lady" aroused much school spirit as it attracted students from all classes to participate in its production.

Time had flown fast, and we found ourselves about to be juniors, with half of our high school career gone but looking forward to the activities the next two years would bring.

We entered our junior year with a little apprehension but ready to adapt to the new rotating schedule, a first at W-H.

Our class officers were Steve Ohrenberger, President; Marcia Browne, Vice-President; Ginny Streeter, Secretary; and Beth Bernado, Treasurer. Our class advisers were Miss Sylvester and Mr. Fox.

The year was busy and prosperous. The Panthers roared their way through the football season with a commendable 7-2 record. Also for the first time in the history of W-H a drill team was formed with our classmate, Marcia Browne as Co-captain. Their performance added spirit and honor to the W-H team.

The annual "Panthers' Prance" was celebrated in November with Mr. Godfrey's group supplying the musical entertainment. That night, Gail J. Peterson was selected "Miss Touchdown."

Late in December, the class sponsored a dance in order to raise money for class activities. Plans for the Junior Prom were suggested, this year giving the class a chance to decide upon what type to have. The idea of an all-night prom was brought before the class, but the suggestion was vetoed; and a regular prom was held in May.

The gym was decorated appropriately to the theme of "Spanish Serenade." The emphasis of decor was the outstanding array of flowers created by the junior girls on the prom committee. That evening Sheryl Rhue was chosen to reign as queen. Her court members were Julie Harding, Donna Rhoades, Teala Paiva, Darlene Winnett, and our exchange student from Ecuador, Marianna.

Again our school was honored by the accomplishments of the baseball team, which tied for the Old Colony League Championship.

A farewell reception was held for our retiring Vice-Principal, Mr. Lane, who had become well acquainted with most students for one reason or another.

The year ended with high spirits and brimming hopes for a prosperous and successful Senior year.

We began our final year at W-H with great anticipation and eagerness. Endless activities were prominent in our minds. We hardly recognized that the time available was so limited.

Again our advisers were Miss Sylvester and Mr. Fox, and our officers were Ronald Beaulieu, President; Donna Rhoades, Vice-President; Ginny Streeter, Secretary; and Beth Bernado, Treasurer. The class also selected Sheila Rhue to represent our school as "Miss Whitman-Hanson."

In September the class sponsored a Kick-off dance to honor the football team. During this season, various "red and black days" were held. Members of each class had their own corridor to decorate in honor of the Panthers. Not necessarily disregarding prejudice, the Senior class won the contest as best decorated.

This was a year of "firsts" at W-H. The student council, with Jeanne Long presiding, brought before the school committee a suggestion of a revision in the dress code. The mature and respectable conduct of those on the dress code committee, along with a proper presentation of views, convinced the school committee, and the new code was approved.

Also for the first time, a W-H area hockey team was formed. The boys who devoted their time and effort to the team won the Old Colony League Championship and the Cranberry Cup Playoff. Although this year the team was not sponsored by the school, it was hoped that in the future hockey would be included in W-H's sports schedule. Even though the records of the varsity teams were not outstanding, the efforts of the Panthers were supported with enthusiasm and spirit.

Another first in sports was the formation of a Girls' Track Club, with one senior in its membership.

The senior class play, "Ten Little Indians," was another successful senior event which involved many of those in the Thespian Society.

For the first time in several years, two seniors, Donna Rhoades and Sandra Boothby placed first and second in the Spellman Essay Contest.

Many class decisions were made this year, beginning with the selection of a class flower and class colors. The yellow rose was selected as class flower, and colors chosen were emerald green and gold.

Other "firsts" at W-H included a Crazy Day, which was held for Seniors only, and the selection of a queen at the Senior reception.

As we prepare to be graduated from W-H on June eighth, we can look back on the activities and accomplishments of our class with pride. Because of our success as a cooperative class, we can also look back without regret.

As we are about to enter a new way of life, we will miss our old high school days; but we will leave with hopes for our future, knowing as our class motto states: "Tis never too late to seek a newer world."

Class Ode

Gone the days when we worked here as one.
Now our days here are done.
Joy and sorrow we leave behind us.

Look ahead, for the future's to come:
Now the journey's begun.
We'll go forward to find our purpose.

Faith, that our future will bring peace and love;
Maybe just afraid of the problems in store.

Search your heart, for the answers are there.
And with what we derive
We'll be willing to share.

We'll find our place somewhere,
We'll find our place somewhere.

THIS DEDICATION, with its accompanying honor, is small compensation for two years of constant effort by our class advisors to bring the Class of '69 to its peak. While encouraging independent student action they were always prepared for any trivial necessities, overlooked through our inexperience. When encountering last minute crises, their calm appraisals and reasonable proposals did much to reassure us. Never so conservative as to stifle our initiative, they were never so liberal as to forfeit their responsibility.

In recognition of this outstanding devotion to the Senior students, we, the Class of 1969, dedicate our yearbook, The Panther, to our advisors, Mr. Thomas E. Fox and Miss Maryann Sylvester.

MR. FOX

MISS SYLVESTER

B. Thomas, Mr. Boothby, ADVISOR, V. Streeter.

We, the staff of the 1969 Panther, hope to capture and preserve the spirit and life of Whitman-Hanson Regional High School so that in the future we may have a record of the happy years we spent here. In this yearbook, we have tried to show not only the calendar events of the school year 1968-1969, but also the daily life of the students.

We wish to thank our advisors Mr. Boothby and Mr. Valla, our yearbook representative Mr. Devoe, our advertisers, and the students of the school whose support and cooperation have made this book possible.

To the members of the Class of 1969:

You have my heartiest congratulations for having reached the milestone of graduation which you have been seeking most of your lives. Your justifiable pride is shared by all who have worked with you as you sought this goal. Graduation is not the end of your education, but is only the beginning of a series of ever-changing goals. This is why graduation season is known as commencement.

Your dreams and your well founded plans for success in the adult society will depend largely upon your efforts. If you select appropriate goals and follow them, the best that life has to offer can be yours. Your happiness will depend largely upon your courage not to yield to selfish satisfactions; and your ability to acquire sound convictions with the courage to live by them. Don't forget that your greatest happiness will come as the result of the service you render unto others.

As you commence your post high school days, I hope the knowledge you have gained will serve you well as you seek new horizons. Your future can be whatever you are willing to make it. Don't let it be less than your best.

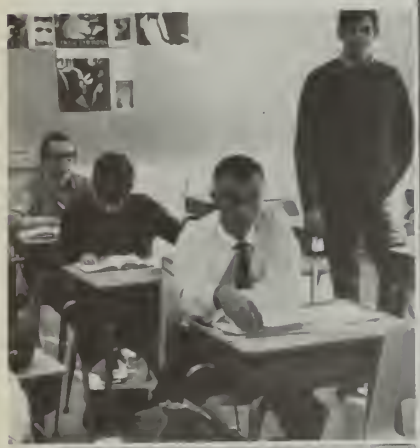
At the end of our freshman year we all were saddened by the tragic accident that left our fellow classmate, Michael Loring, paralyzed. However, despite his handicap, Michael has never forgotten his school or his classmates and his face has been a familiar sight at many school functions. His courage should serve as an example to us all.

Best wishes, Michael, from the class of '69!

REMEMBER WHEN . . .

We won the Class C Football Championship in our freshman year?
Mrs. Morris wore two different shoes?
Marylou Gorski was a turkey in the rally?
We had all those bomb scares?
"Annie Gunn," a satire of Antigone, was put on?
We made all those paper flowers for our Junior Prom?
We did the "bunnyhop" at our Freshman Mixer?
We made the huge tree for the Panther's Prance?
The boys and girls had to square dance in the gym?
We spent the Thanksgiving Day football games in the rain?
Every girl wore flowered suits?
We took midyears for the first time?
We tried to clean out our lockers?
Our newspapers from government and history classes stacked up in our lockers?
We nervously gave our first speech in speech class?
Everyone wore saddle shoes?
We had all those parties and pajama parties?
We froze on the beach the day after the Prom?

"You bet your sweet Bippy!"



"Now what did I say?"

"What's a hungry girl like me doing in a place like this?"

"BISCUITS, anyone?"

Simple Simon says!

"You're a good man CHARLIE BROWN."

"Thank Gawd for June 8!"

"Thank you. You're such a wonderful person."

"We move the earth!"

Three down, seven to go!

"Shut up or I'll shoot yours off!"

"Grandpa, you have bad breath!"

An excellent cast, complemented by a fine director and stage crew, presented the annual Senior Class Play on December 6th and 7th. Led by Bill Kenealy, Steve Ohrenburger and Darlene Winnett, the production of Agatha Christie's Ten Little Indians was a great success.

The supporting roles, especially those of Joe Cwickla and Greg Winnett, raised the suspense and disguised the identity of the real murderer. Only the victims themselves were freed from suspicion . . . or were they? In the wild finale, marked by Kenealy's—credible, magnificent—portrayal of madness, justice was finally done in.

"Must've been the lunches."

Our class's first major social event was the Panther's Prance, a semi-formal dance held in honor of the football team. The cafeteria was decorated in a fall theme which included a large tree bearing a helmet for each member of the team. The highlight of the evening was the promenade of the junior girls and the selection of Miss Touchdown, Gail J. Peterson. The Prance was enjoyed by all and was a great success.

Student Council

This year our Student Council was an active, hard-working organization. President Jeanne Long presided over the well-attended meetings held every other Monday under the supervision of advisors Mrs. Little and Mr. Horkey.

Every Thursday was "Penny Day," and the collections taken were used to help build a school in an underdeveloped country through the Peace Corps' School to School Program. The most important projects undertaken by the Council this year have been the revision of the school's dress code with permission from the school committee and the drive for school spirit, especially at basketball games.

Besides these efforts, the Student Council carried out an impressive number of other projects. Some of these were sponsoring a mock presidential election, buying, wrapping, and sending Christmas gifts to Vietnam, and decorating the halls and offices for the holiday season. Also, they sponsored Red and Black Day in honor of the basketball team, featuring a corridor decorating contest (won by the seniors). Basketball pens, two types of school jackets, and boxes of candy were among items sold by the members.

As in other years, the Council chose the recipient of the Jewish Brotherhood Award, conducted a Book Fair, managed the bookstore, and sent delegates to the state convention and the Southeastern Massachusetts Association of Student Councils Convention. In February, the Council ran the successful "Sweetheart Dance," which was enjoyed by all who attended.

Whitman-Hanson is lucky to have such an effective, truly representative Student Council; the faculty and students can be proud of it.

Math League

Whitman-Hanson entered a team in the Greater Boston Math League, Division VI, for the first time this year. Competition consisted of four meets and a playoff against the other nine schools in the division. Our team had five members with at least one sophomore and not more than two seniors. Participants attempted to solve problems individually from the fields of Arithmetic, Algebra I and II, Geometry and Trigonometry. Each school also had a team question for the entire group to solve. While the first year is always the roughest, next year promises great victories for the "Mighty Mathletes."

Among these are the football games, rallies, Christmas Concert, Spring Concert, the Memorial Day Parade, the Veterans' Day Parade, Honor Society Induction, Awards Night, and Graduation. In addition, several of the students participate in the area music festivals. The music festivals range in size from those that include the area towns (Southeastern Massachusetts School Bandmasters' Association) to those that include all six New England states (New England Music Festival). The students in the band, along with Mr. Godfrey, the music supervisor, work very hard to prepare and present a musical program that will be appropriate and pleasing to the student body and public.

Chorus

The fifty member chorus has spent time learning a variety of musical compositions, all of which will either be performed at the spring concert, a school assembly, or at the graduation ceremony. The students who participate in the music department of the school are taught by their director, Mr. Douglas Godfrey, the theory of music, which includes the reading of notes and their values, and the recognition of volume and dynamic markings on music pieces. In this way, they will come to know their music better than if they worked needlessly on mimicking sounds given to them by the accompanist at the piano. This is one major reason why the members of the chorus do not sing a great deal of selections in one school year, because there is just not time enough to give each period in the history of music its due consideration.

A most important facet of the opportunities which are open to all chorus members are the various music festivals, which are widely known. They are the South Eastern Massachusetts' School Band Festival, the South Eastern District Festival, the All-State Festival, and the New England Festival, listed in the order of their requirements for admission. The District, and All-State Festivals are nationwide and all students who participate in them experience working under new conductors and meeting other people like themselves interested in music. The S.E.M.S.B.A. Festival includes the smaller number of South Shore towns and uses its own music directors to conduct the programs. As the area is not very large and the number of students chosen to sing in the chorus is many, this festival makes it possible for a greater number of students to participate in a fine musical organization. The site for this year's S.E.M.S.B.A. concert is our high school. Much is being done by all to make this occasion a pleasant and enjoyable one. The District festival includes all towns from Boston to Nantucket. This Festival, as do the All-State and New England Festivals, hires talented and accomplished music conductors to lead the programs. To be accepted at the All-State Festival, one must first be recommended according to his abilities shown at the Districts auditions. This individual would then have to audition again for acceptance to the All-State Festival. The New England Festival auditions have been held at Boston University in recent years. Such states as New Hampshire, Vermont, Rhode Island, and portions of Connecticut are included. Occasionally students and music directors of many high schools must travel and be housed near the site of the festival in order to attend the rehearsals and final concert.

UNDERCLASSMEN

The Freshman class set a precedent by sponsoring its first dance instead of the traditional Freshman Mixer. It also made history with its phenomenal football team, the best in recent years. This team was honored by its classmates with a rally at the end of the season.

After one year of high school, the Class of '72 can look back proudly on its achievements and look forward to attaining even greater ones.

Sophomore

As Sophomores, the Class of '71 sponsored one of the first dances of the school year. The ever popular "Utopia" provided the music and with the high-spirited Sophomores as an audience, the affair was a great success.

Under the leadership of the class officers, the class had a successful year and prepared for the final half of its high school career.

Junior

In its Junior year, the Class of '70 held two dances and an exciting prom. The first dance, held in the cafeteria, featured the fabulous "Neptunes." Next was the annual Panther's Prance, a semi-formal dance in honor of the football team, at which Arlene Arsenault was chosen "Miss Touchdown."

On May 16, the gym was transformed into the Lost Continent of Atlantis—the setting for the Junior Prom.

The Junior Class looks forward to the responsibilities of the coming year and wishes the Class of '69 the best of luck as it leaves Whitman-Hanson.

Whitman-Hanson's 1968 Cross-Country Team was a greatly improved squad. There was more participation and more support from the student body than in past years. Coach Crowley was pleased with the team's efforts and the many examples of individual improvement. Led by co-captains Ron Hallock and Phil Clemons, and sophomore Steve Brown, the boys compiled a 3-5 record and maintained high morale.

Races are 2½ miles long, on courses stretching over all kinds of terrain. All the runners, competing simultaneously, must pace themselves so as to use all their strength and still manage to finish. The place numbers of each team's runners are added, with the lower score winning.

At the Old Colony League Meet, in which all the teams in the league take part, Whitman-Hanson made a respectable showing. In the varsity meet, the Panthers placed fifth out of the nine participating schools, while the junior varsity team soared to second out of nine in their meet.

All in all, it was a productive year. With all but two lettermen returning next fall, Whitman-Hanson's determined Panthers should be fighting for the top.

Varsity Football

1968 proved to be another winning season for Coach Teahan's Panthers. A balanced offense coupled with an outstanding defense powered Whitman-Hanson to a 5-3-1 record and third place in the Old Colony League.

The 13-0 loss to Scituate in the opening game was somewhat disappointing, but the defense looked fairly good, pouncing on three fumbles.

In the Hingham game the Panthers trailed 24-6 at the half, then made a great offensive and defensive comeback. They allowed only seven points while exploding for twenty points in six minutes, with Bill Hammond grabbing three touchdown passes. However, time ran out leaving the score 31-26 with Whitman-Hanson just one frustrating yard short of victory.

Against Randolph the whole team finally came through for a 6-0 win. A fine defense blanked the Blue Devils, and the offense threatened several times before Hammond scored in the fourth period.

The stingy Panther's held Plymouth-Carver scoreless also, aided greatly by Cliff Gardener's long punts. Hard-running backs Ed Lawrence and Dana Young accounted for the touchdowns and it was Whitman-Hanson, 12-0.

The season's only tie came against Bridgewater Raynham, as each team's defense held until the last period. Young scored the Panther touchdown on a 31-yard sprint, resulting in a 6-6 stalemate.

Wheels rolls out of the backfield against Rockland.

Thanksgiving Day saw the Panthers earn their turkey in a great all-around 32-12 win over arch-rival Abington. Three interceptions paved the way. Five different players scored: Bill Pye with an interception, Young and Motta on runs, Hammond and Rayment on passes.

All in all it was a good season for Whitman-Hanson's dependable Panthers. The team's outstanding characteristic was its mighty defense, starring Bill Hammond, Steve Robillard, Charlie Pagnini, Steve Rayment, Bill Yanuss, Steve Lake, Bill Pye, and Steve Dubois. They yielded only 76 points in nine games, the league's best.

The next game was a resounding 20-0 victory over Rockland. Once again the defensive unit denied their opponents a score, while offensively, Young ran for two touchdowns and passed to Rick Hughes for a third.

Silver Lake, with another defense-minded team, managed to overcome the Panthers 14-6, as fumbles took their toll. There were many fine individual efforts, and Lawrence bulled over for Whitman-Hanson points.

Against Middleboro, the team came back with its successful combination of an awesome defense and a strong running attack. Mike Motta bucked over for the first touchdown, and Lawrence, who gained a tremendous 202 yards rushing, followed with the second, making it a 14-0 victory.

Lawrence drives through Green Wave's line.

Freshman Football

The real glory of 1968 belongs to the Freshman team and their season of truly unbelievable football. Starting with a 28-0 win over Scituate the Panthers never felt the sting of defeat and completed their season with a 9-0-0 record. Specific wins, such as 45-0 over Middleboro, 38-0 against Randolph, and 32-0 versus Bridgewater-Raynham gave the Freshmen a fine total of 251 offensive points. However, perhaps even more worthy of recognition is the fact that only 18 points were scored against the Panthers in their nine games. Particular individual efforts of halfback and split receiver Mike Ferris, in scoring 146 points and quarterback Dan Mahoney's eleven touchdown passes promise real talent for future varsity teams.

The school awarded the team football patches and framed pictures at the awards assembly. The Panthers were also treated to a dinner by the Whitman-Hanson American Legion.

Coach Meiggs and Coach Ferris are truly proud of their team and are looking forward to following it through three more years of winning football.

Varsity Basketball

Despite a 7-11 record, the 1968-1969 Basketball Team disproved pre-season prediction of a very poor showing.

Under the leadership of Coach Hines and co-captains Billy Hammond and Steve Rayment, the team won three of its first four games. A generally effective defense enabled the Panther Five to score several upsets over strong opponents. Although having difficulty with other top teams, Whitman-Hanson managed to defeat Middleboro twice and Rockland once.

The rebounding of Paul Conant, Fran Doran, and Steve Wirtzburger, -the ball-handling of Bob Baker, Steve Rayment and Mike Motta, and the scoring of Billy Hammond, Doran, Baker, and Conant were the components of a fine cooperative effort.

The Junior Varsity Basketball Team, under the able leadership of Coach Gerald Ferris, once again showed promise for future Varsity teams. Although their record was not perfect, they showed great spirit and tried valiantly in each game they played.

Juniors Don Ford, Fred Lincoln, Mark Dwyer and Allan Sherman, sophomores Billy Sheilds, Dick Burbine, Jim Daley, Wayne Macbeth and Mickey Motta, plus freshman Bob Johnson all gained plenty of valuable experience for future seasons.

The 1968-69 Varsity Basketball Team, coached by Miss Pratt, once again had a winning season, posting a 9-7 record. Though not as successful as some past teams, it was still a good season.

The team's main task this year was rebuilding. With only two seniors on the squad, the backbone of the team was made up of underclassmen, mostly sophomores. These players show a great deal of promise for future teams.

Under co-captains Jane Howard and Sandi Boothby, all the girls showed great spirit throughout the year and did their best, one cannot ask for more.

"And Miss Pratt thinks we're practicing?"

Whitman-Hanson is one of the few local schools to have both winter and spring track teams. From December to February the Panthers compete in the Tri-County Indoor Track League, with the meets held at Commonwealth Armory in Boston. In April and May, the team is in the Old Colony League.

The 1968-1969 Indoor Varsity Track Team, coached by Mr. Kelley, proved to be Whitman-Hanson's most successful in recent years. This year, the boys were able to compile a 3-6 record, which shows considerable improvement over past seasons. Competition in the league was tough and opposing numbers, rather than skill, became the deciding factor in several close meets.

Seniors Dana Young and Michael Fernandez performed very well in the 300 and 50 yard dashes and co-captains Phil Clemons and Ron Hallock dominated the mile and 1000 yard run events. Skill and ability were also evident in several underclassmen such as Dennis Lozzi and Steve Clifford in the shot put, Ed Spinney in the mile event, Peter Kuchinski in the 600 yard run, and Greg Ferris in the hurdles.

The Spring Track Team benefits from the experience gained during the winter season. There are more field events outdoors, such as the javelin, discus, pole vault, and broad jump. Also, some running events differ slightly.

Spectators have the opportunity to watch the meets, which are held at home and at local schools. Although there are usually several outstanding performers, the team's success is often hampered by lack of participation. However, coaches Mr. Kelley and Mr. Goslin do a good job with the candidates they have. Certainly, the boys profit from the healthy competition, both in body and mind.

Softball

The 1968 Girls Softball Team continued its winning ways with another great season. Under the capable direction of Miss Pratt and Miss Irwin, the girls won ten out of twelve games played. Outplaying all opponents except Rockland and Scituate, the team had high morale and really enjoyed playing. Replacing the 1968 infield, which graduated, is the main job of this year's team. The overall prospect for future years is promising.

1968 was another fine year for Whitman-Hanson's baseball team. Reeling off seven straight victories in the first seven games, their final record was 13-5, which was good enough for a first-place tie with Middleboro in the Old Colony League. This was the reward of hard work, a tight defense, and timely hitting. There were many individual standouts, who, along with the competent coaching of Mr. Spratt, enabled the Panthers to win many hard fought contests.

"Oh no! It's too high."

The 1968 Varsity Tennis Team played its best season in many years, finishing fourth out of ten in the Old Colony League with a record of eleven wins and seven losses. Led by the coach, Mr. Horkey, the team composed of Paul Peterson, playing first singles, Ron Shaw and Dick Willis, second and third singles, Jim McGlashan and Arnie Danielson, first doubles, and Ron Beaulieu, Doug Robertson and Brooks Beaulieu competing in second doubles position. Though most of the players are seniors and will be leaving the team, Mr. Horkey hopes that with increasing interest in tennis at Whitman-Hanson he will see even better seasons in the future.

The 1968 Girls' Tennis Team enjoyed a winning season, defeating Bridgewater-Raynham, Silver Lake, and Rockland each twice, to make a total of six wins and six losses. This was a great improvement over previous seasons due to the work of the coach, Mrs. Tuttle, and the players themselves. Many of the players were underclassmen and should help build up the team in the following seasons.
